...at MU Healthcare, the South Providence Family Medicine Clinic now has a "hormone clinic" in which they are getting folks in within 1-2 months (for perspective, this is MUCH less time than getting into a general PCP visit) - since it is a specialty sub-clinic within Family Medicine, they are a PCP based clinic in which they DO have additional training and are committed to affirming care.

If anyone is interested in engaging in legislative advocacy around this topic - there are a few of us in Columbia who are having conversations - happy to have you email me bullette@umsystem.edu
